

Quantitative Reasoning The application of mathematical, logical and statistical skills to interpret data and produce new information.